

SUMMARY: The document below dated 18 April 1548 is an exemplification of the fine of 10 February 1548 and 16 April 1548 between John de Vere (1516-1562), 16th Earl of Oxford, and Edward Seymour (c.1500-1552), Duke of Somerset, his brother-in-law, Sir Michael Stanhope (d.1552), Stanhope's first cousin and the 16th Earl's brother-in-law, Sir Thomas Darcy (1506-1558), and the 16th Earl's legal counsellor, John Lucas (d.1556) by which, as a result of Somerset's extortion, the 16th Earl transferred legal title to almost all the lands of the Oxford earldom to Somerset and his heirs for the fictitious sum of 40,000 marks [=£26,666 13s 4d] of silver. For the private Act of Parliament of 23 January 1552 by which this flagrant injustice was rectified, see HL/PO/PB/1/1551/5E6n35. For the fine, see also Fitch, Marc and Frederick Emmison, eds., Feet of Fines for Essex, Vol V: 1547-1580 (Oxford: Leopard's Head Press, 1991), p. 9.

By licence dated 30 January 1548, the 10-year-old King Edward VI (1537-1553) granted the 16th Earl permission to alienate to Somerset certain manors which the 16th Earl held from the Crown as tenant in chief by knight service (see TNA E 328/345). Once the preliminary step of obtaining the King's licence to alienate these manors held from the Crown in chief by knight service was completed, a fine was levied which covered all the lands of the Oxford earldom with the exception of the 16th Earl's lands in Chester, his lands in Langdon Hills and Wennington, and the lands included in King Henry VIII's grant of Colne Priory to John de Vere (1482-1540), 15th Earl of Oxford, and his heirs by letters patent dated 22 July 1536 (see TNA C 66/668, mbs. 26-27, and ERO D/DPr/631).

It should be noted that both the manor of East Bergholt and the manor of Battisford in East Bergholt are included in the fine below. The 16th Earl apparently held two manors in East Bergholt. He had inherited one in 1540 from his father, John de Vere (1482-1540), 15th Earl of Oxford (see reference to the manor of East Bergholt, valued at £47 15s 1/2d per annum, in TNA SC 11/919). Another had been granted to him on 29 April 1544 by King Henry VIII in exchange for the 16th Earl's manors of Dovercourt and Harwich (see TNA C 66/740, m.5). Confusingly, it would seem that both manors were referred to interchangeably as the manor of East Bergholt. In addition, one or the other of these manors was also referred to by various other names, including Old Hall, le Commandry, Bergholt Commandry, and St. John's. A deed made by the 16th Earl on 8 February 1561 refers to 'the manors of Old Hall and le Commandry in East Bergholt' (see TNA C 142/136/12 and TNA WARD 8/13, Part 15), while the 16th Earl's indenture of 2 June 1562 refers to the two manors as the manor of East Bergholt, and the manor of Bergholt Commandry (see TNA C 54/626).

As mentioned above, Sir Michael Stanhope, Sir Thomas Darcy and John Lucas were joined with Somerset as grantees in the fine. The roles played by Stanhope, Darcy and Lucas are not entirely clear, and the legal interests they acquired by way of the fine are equally unclear, since the Act of Parliament which rectified Somerset's extortion against the 16th Earl contains no specific discussion of the issue (see HL/PO/PB/1/1551/5E6n35). However it is noteworthy that, according to Bindoff, Lucas 'acquired no less than 5,120 acres in Wiltshire from the [16th] Earl in May 1552' (see Bindoff, S.T., The House of Commons 1509-1558, vol. II (London: Secker & Warburg, 1982), p. 554). This purchase, which occurred only four months after the passage of the private Act of Parliament of 22 or 23 January 1552 which restored the 16th Earl's lands to him, consisted of the 16th Earl's manors of Crudwell and Eastcourt, to which Lucas already held legal title as one of the grantees in the fine extorted from the 16th Earl by Somerset (see 'Parishes: Crudwell', A History of the County of Wiltshire: Volume 14: Malmesbury hundred (1991), pp. 51-65). It is perhaps also significant that in June and July 1548, at the time of Somerset's extortion against the 16th Earl, Lucas had sufficient funds in hand to purchase several properties (see Bindoff, p. 554):

In July 1548 he purchased the property of the dissolved chantry of Sible Hedingham, and lands at Great and Little Horkesley, Essex, but the culmination of his estate-building had come with his purchase in the previous month of the freehold reversion of the site, lands and buildings of St. John's Abbey, Colchester, from Sir Francis Jobson.

It is useful to compare the lands included in the fine of 10 February and 16 April 1548 with the lands included in TNA WARD 8/13, a Court of Wards document accounting for revenues from the late 16th Earl's lands in 1563-4. The fine mentions the following manors not included in TNA WARD 8/13: the manor of Battisford discussed above which appears to have been included in the accounting for the manor of East Bergholt in TNA WARD 8/13, the manor of Mountnessing in which the 16th Earl held only a reversionary interest and for which there was no revenue to be recorded during the time period of 1563-4 covered by TNA WARD 8/13, and several manors which had been sold by the 16th Earl before his death, namely the manors of Crudwell and Eastcourt in Wiltshire (sold to John Lucas in 1552, as noted above), the manors of Munslow with the members and Norton in Hales in Salop, and the manor of Lamport in Northamptonshire (sold to Sir William Cecil in 1559). As well, the manor of Great Abington is erroneously mentioned twice in the fine, and Nether Yeldham and Great Yeldham are erroneously listed in the fine as two separate manors. In addition, there are minor differences between the two documents in terms of nomenclature: the manor of Abbots in Stow in TNA WARD 8/13 is referred to in the fine as the manor of Hayes in Stow, and the manors of Bumpstead Countesmead and Great Bumpstead in TNA WARD 8/13 are referred to as 'Countesmead in Bumpstead with the members' in the fine.

Conversely, TNA WARD 8/13 includes these lands and offices not mentioned in the fine: the 16th Earl's lands in Chester; the lands included in King Henry VIII's grant of Colne Priory; the office of the feodary of the honours of Hedingham & Stansted, which appears to have been revenue neutral, with revenues offset by reprises; lands in Wennington and Langdon Hills; and the office of Lord Great Chamberlain (an office which the 16th Earl did not hold in 1548).

The comparison thus reveals that the fine extorted from the 16th Earl by Somerset did indeed cover all the lands which the 16th Earl held in 1548 with the exception of lands in Chester, lands in Langdon Hills and Wennington, and the lands comprised in Henry VIII's grant of Colne Priory.
