

SUMMARY: The document below is the Prerogative Court of Canterbury copy of the will, dated 23 April 1509 and proved 16 November 1513, of Sir Robert Corbet (c.1477 - 11 April 1513), whose sister, Elizabeth Corbet, was the great-grandmother of Oxford's second wife, Elizabeth Trentham.

FAMILY BACKGROUND

The testator was the grandson of Sir Roger Corbet (d. 8 June 1467), son and heir of Robert Corbet and Margaret Mallory, by Elizabeth Hopton (d. 22 June 1498), sister of Sir Walter Hopton, and daughter of Sir Thomas Hopton and Eleanor Lucy, daughter and co-heir of Sir Walter Lucy (d. 4 October 1444) by his wife Eleanor L'Arcedekne (d. 20 July 1447). After Sir Roger Corbet's death, Elizabeth Hopton married secondly John Tiptoft (beheaded 18 October 1470), 1st Earl of Worcester, and thirdly Sir William Stanley (beheaded 16 February 1495), the younger brother of Thomas Stanley (c.1433-1504), 1st Earl of Derby, husband of Henry VII's mother, Margaret Beaufort. See the ODNB articles on Thomas Stanley, 1st Earl of Derby, and Sir William Stanley; Richardson, Douglas, Magna Carta Ancestry, 2nd ed., 2011, Vol. III, pp. 65-9; and Corbet, Augusta Elizabeth, The Family of Corbet, (London: St. Catherine's Press, n.d.), Vol. II, pp. 248-58 at:

The testator was the eldest son and heir of Sir Richard Corbet (1451 - 6 December 1493) and Elizabeth Devereux (d.1516), the daughter of Walter Devereux (c.1432 – 22 August 1485), 1st Baron Ferrers of Chartley, slain at the Battle of Bosworth. Elizabeth Devereux's nephew, Walter Devereux (born c.1489, d. 17 December 1558), 1st Viscount Hereford, the son and heir of John Devereux (c.1463/4-1501), 2nd Baron Ferrers of Chartley, was the great-grandfather of Queen's Elizabeth's favourite, Robert Devereux (1565-1601), 2nd Earl of Essex.

The testator had a brother, George Corbet, and five sisters:

* Mary Corbet, who married Sir Thomas Lacon (d.1536) of Willey, Shropshire (for his will, see TNA PROB 11/25/371).

* Anne Corbet, who married Sir Thomas Cornwall (1468-1538) of Burford.

* Elizabeth Corbet, who married Thomas Trentham (died c.1519) of Shrewsbury (for his will, see TNA PROB 11/19/252). As noted above, she was the grandmother of Oxford's second wife, Elizabeth Trentham (d.1612). See the Trentham pedigree in College of Arms MS Glover 1, f. 190.

* Katherine Corbet, who married Thomas Onslow of Rodington (not mentioned in The Family of Corbet, infra).

After the death of Sir Richard Corbet (1451 - 6 December 1493), Elizabeth Devereux (d.1516) married Sir Thomas Leighton (1443-1519) of Wattlesborough, Shropshire, by whom she had three sons: Sir John Leighton (d.1532), father of Sir Thomas Leighton (c.1530–1610); Richard Leighton, who married Katherine Parry, but died without issue; and Thomas Leighton, who died an infant. ### MARRIAGE AND CHILDREN

The testator married Elizabeth Vernon (d. 29 March 1563), the daughter of Sir Henry Vernon (b. circa 1441, d. 13 April 1515) of Haddon, Derbyshire, and his wife, Anne Talbot (d. 17 May 1494), the daughter of Sir John Talbot (1413-1460), 2nd Earl of Shrewsbury. See Richardson, supra, Vol. III, pp. 69-70.

Richard Vernon (d.1517) of Haddon, mentioned in the will below, was the second son and heir of the testator's father-in-law, Sir Henry Vernon. For the will of the testator's father-in-law, Sir Henry Vernon, see TNA PROB 11/18/121.

The testator and his wife, Elizabeth Vernon, had three sons and four daughters:

* Roger Corbet (d.1538/9), who married Anne Windsor (d.1550/1), the daughter of Andrew Windsor (b.1467, d. 30 March 1543), 1st Lord Windsor. Roger Corbet was a ward of John de Vere (1442-1513), 13th Earl of Oxford (see TNA C 1/1485/58). For the will of Roger Corbet see TNA PROB 11/27/408. For Roger Corbet's wardship, see The Family of Corbet, supra, p. 263 at:

Sir Robert held Commissions of the Peace both in this year 1511 and in the following year, and in 1512 his name is among the "Appointments for War." "Names of lords and others with the number of men which they have granted, to serve the king's grace by land, viz., : The Duke of Buckingham, Earl of Shrewsbury, Lord Fitz-Warren, Sir Thomas Lovel, Sir Robert Corbet etc. . . . ". The Commissions of Peace for Feb. 1513 contain Sir Robert's name, but an entry of 10th Jan. and again of 30th Jan. tells of his decease. The entry runs: "For Chas: Brandon Viscount Lisle. Wardship of Roger son and heir of Sir Robert Corbet." "Richmond 5 Hen. VIII." Dodsworth also records from the Escheat for the Essex lands on Sir Robert's death, 5, Hen. VIII. No. 87, that "Robert Corbet held the Manor of Woodham Mortimer and the Manor of Welbrigge-hall, and died on the 11th April 4. Hen. VIII. and Roger Corbet is his son and heir and of the age of 12 years." A

Reference also among the Harrison Indexes gives "Inq: P.M. of Sir Robert Corbet, knt, taken at Salop 16, June 5, Hen. VIII. Sir Robert Corbet died 11th April 5, Hen: VIII, leaving a widow Elizabeth, and children Roger (aged 11) Anna, Dorothy, Joanna, and Maria." A Deed which is almost in the form of a will is also recorded in Dods. MSS. It bears no date, but "was proved in Nov: 1513." "Whereas I Sir Robert Corbet etc.

* Richard Corbet (d.1564x6), who married Margaret (nee Savile), the widow of Thomas Wortley, esquire, of Wortley, Yorkshire, but died without issue. She was the daughter of Sir John Savile (d.1504) of Thornhill, Yorkshire, Captain of the Isle of Wight, by his second wife, Elizabeth Paston, the daughter of Sir William Paston and Joan Beaufort, the daughter and co-heiress of Edmund Beaufort, first cousin to Henry VII's mother, Margaret Beaufort (Sir John Savile married firstly Alice Vernon, the daughter of Henry Vernon). See The Family of Corbet, supra, pp. 266-7, and the will of Richard Corbet, see TNA PROB 11/48/556. * Reginald Corbet (c.1510 - 19 November 1566), who married Alice Gratewood (d.1603), daughter of John Gratewood of Wollerton, Shropshire, and Margaret Hill, sister of Sir Rowland Hill (c.1495-1561). For the will of Reginald Corbet, see TNA PROB 11/49/18. For the will of Sir Rowland Hill, see TNA PROB 11/44/360.

* Jane Corbet, who married Thomas Lee (d.1561x3) of Langley, the son and heir of Fulke Lee by Alice Cornwall, the daughter of Sir Richard Cornwall of Berrington, Herefordshire (for the will of Thomas Lee, see TNA PROB 11/46/40).

* Joanna or Anna Corbet, who married Thomas Newport (d.1548x51). The testator's daughter, Joanna or Anna Corbet, and her husband, Thomas Newport (d.1548/51), were the parents of Sir Richard Newport (d.1570/1), the owner of a copy of Hall's Chronicle (formerly Loan 61 in the British Library, and now in the hands of Lord Hesketh, a trustee) containing annotations thought to have been made by Shakespeare (see Keen, Alan and Roger Lubbock, The Annotator, (London: Putnam, 1954)). For the will of Thomas Newport, see TNA PROB 11/34/176. For the will of Sir Richard Newport, who was also the uncle of Humphrey Martyn, addressee of the Langham Letter, see TNA PROB 11/53/456.

* Mary Corbet, who married Thomas Powell of Oswestry.

* Dorothy Corbet, who married Sir Richard Mainwaring (b. about 1499, d. 30 September 1558) of Ightfield, Shropshire.

See Richardson, supra, Vol. III, pp. 69-70, 94.

George Bromley (d.1545), appointed as one of the testator's executors, was George Bromley (d.1545) of Hodnet, Shropshire, who married Jane Lacon (b. about 1505), one of the daughters of Mary Corbet and Sir Thomas Lacon (d.1536). George Bromley (d.1545) was a first cousin of Margaret Bromley, the wife of Sir Richard Newport (d.1570/1), owner of the annotated copy of Hall's Chronicle mentioned above. George Bromley (d.1545) and Jane Lacon (b. about 1505) were the parents of Queen Elizabeth's Lord Chancellor, Sir Thomas Bromley (c.1530–1587), who was a trustee of the indenture Oxford entered into on 30 January 1575 prior to his departure for his continental tour (see ERO D/DRg2/25).

The testator's sister, Mary Corbet, and Sir Thomas Lacon (d.1536) had another daughter, Mary Lacon (d. 27 April 1563), who married firstly Thomas Acton (d. 2 January 1547), esquire, of Sutton, Worcestershire, and by him had two sons, Lancelot and Gabriel, who died in infancy, and a daughter, Joyce Acton (1532 – 10 February 1595 [sic?]), who married Sir Thomas Lucy (d. 7 July 1600) of Charlecote, Warwickshire, from whose park William Shakespeare of Stratford upon Avon is alleged to have poached deer. See the entry for Sir Thomas Lucy (b. in or before 1532, d. 1600) of Charlecote in the ODNB:

Thomas Lucy was educated at home, at one time by John Fawkenner, an Oxford graduate, and then, for a year or so between the summer of 1545 and early in 1547, by John Foxe, the martyrologist. During this period Thomas, still only fourteen or so, was betrothed to Joyce (1532–1595), the twelve-year-old only child and heir of Thomas Acton of Sutton Park, in Worcestershire. Their marriage settlement is dated 1 August 1546, the marriage itself presumably taking place shortly afterwards. Five months later, in January 1547, Acton died, and his extensive estates, subject only to his wife's dowry, were thus inherited by his daughter.

Thomas Lucy might not now be so well known had his name not come to be associated with one of the earliest examples of Shakespeare folklore. Nicholas Rowe was the first to publish this, in 1709 and in some detail, but similar stories can be found in three other autonomous sources of late seventeenth-century date, all ultimately derived, no doubt, from local Stratford gossip. Rowe's account records that the young William Shakespeare, having got into bad company, had more than once stolen deer from Thomas Lucy's park at Charlecote, that he had been caught and rather too severely punished, and that in revenge had composed a ballad satirizing Lucy, which got him into such trouble that he had to leave Stratford for London. Another version of the story introduces the concept that Shakespeare's revenge included a caricature of Lucy in the person of Justice Shallow. Further embellished, this has proved to be one of the most popular and enduring Shakespeare legends, and has provoked much debate as to its authenticity.

Some writers have drawn attention to inconsistencies (there was, for example, no formal park at Charlecote at this date), and few claim that the story can be true throughout. Nevertheless, during Shakespeare's youth Thomas Lucy was certainly well known in Stratford.

After the death of Thomas Acton (d. 2 January 1547), Mary (nee Lacon) married George Vernon (died c.1554) of Hodnet, Shropshire, who, by his first wife, Elizabeth Pigott, was the father of John Vernon (d.1591), the father of Elizabeth Vernon (born 11 January 1573, d. after 1655), who married Henry Wriothesley (1573–1624), 3rd Earl of Southampton. For the will of Mary (nee Lacon) Acton Vernon (d. 27 April 1563), see TNA PROB 11/46/222. For the will of George Vernon (died c.1554) of Hodnet, see TNA PROB 11/37/222.
