

SUMMARY: The document below is the Prerogative Court of Canterbury copy of the last will and testament, dated 20 June 1544 and proved 27 October 1544, of Lawrence Saunders of Harrington, Northamptonshire, the second son of Edward Saunders of Harrington by Joan Makerneys, the daughter of Richard and Felice Makerneys of Wolfhampcote. See the pedigrees of Saunders in Metcalfe, Walter C., ed., The Visitations of Northamptonshire Made in 1564 and 1618-19, (London: Mitchell and Hughes, 1887), pp. 44-5 at:

The testator was the uncle of George Saunders, murdered on 25 March 1573 by Oxford's former servant, George Browne. The murder was the subject of a pamphlet by Oxford's uncle, Arthur Golding (1535/6-1606), Brief Discourse of the Late Murther of Master George Saunders, and an anonymous play, A Warning for Fair Women, performed by the Lord Chamberlain's Men.

The testator had an elder brother, John Saunders, two younger brothers, William Saunders (d.1541x2) of Welford, Northamptonshire, and Thomas Saunders (d.1528) of Sibbertoft, Northamptonshire, and is said to have had three sisters, Joan; Grace, who married Maurice Osborne of Kelmarsh; and Isabel, who married Walter Curson or Curzon (d.1527) of Waterperry, for whom see his will, TNA PROB 11/22/320; and:

For the will of the testator's brother, William Saunders (d.1541x2), father of the murdered George Saunders, see TNA PROB 11/28/488.

At the time the testator's brother, William Saunders (d.1541/2), made his will, his and the testator's eldest brother, John Saunders, was still living. However John Saunders is not mentioned in the will below, and may have predeceased the testator.

For the will of the testator's brother, Thomas Saunders (d.1528), who married Margaret Cave, see TNA PROB 11/22/481. Robert Chaunterell, who witnessed the testator's will below, was Margaret Cave's second husband.

The testator married Alice Brokesby, the daughter of Robert Brokesby (b. c. 1450, d. 28 March 1531), esquire, of Shoby, Leicestershire, and his wife, Alice Shirley (c.1453-c.1500), by whom he had two sons, Thomas Saunders of Haringworth and William Saunders (d.1582). For the will of the testator's son, William Saunders (d.1582), see TNA PROB 11/67/61.

The testator's son, Thomas Saunders, married Mary Hastings, but had no issue by her. In Nicolas, Nicholas Harris, Testamenta Vetusta, Vol. I, (London: Nichols and Son, 1826), p. 373, Mary Hastings is said to have been the daughter of Sir Richard Hastings, son of William Hastings (c.1430-1483), 1st Baron Hastings. However it seems more generally accepted that she and her sister, Elizabeth Hastings (c.1504-1588), who married John Beaumont (died c. 1556) of Thringston and Gracedieu, Leicestershire, were the daughters of Sir Richard Hastings' brother, Sir William Hastings (1470-1514), and his wife, Jane Sheffield (1474-16 March 1528), the daughter of Robert Sheffield (c.1430-1502) and his wife, Jane Lounde.

From the entry for John Beaumont (died c.1556) in the ODNB:

Elizabeth, whom he had married by 1540, was the daughter of William Hastings, younger son of William Hastings, first Baron Hastings, and uncle of George Hastings, first earl of Huntingdon and steward of the honour of Leicester.

The dramatist Francis Beaumont (1584/5-1616) was the grandson of Elizabeth Hastings and John Beaumont (died c.1556). See the History of Parliament biography of John Beaumont (died c. 1556) at:

<http://www.historyofparliamentonline.org/volume/1509-1558/member/beaumont-john-1508-5864>.

See also Fetherston, John, ed., The Visitation of the County of Leicester in the Year 1619, (London: Harleian Society, 1870), p. 26, which states that Jane Sheffield, the daughter of Sir Robert Sheffield, was the fourth wife of Ralph Shirley of Shirley and Staunton. Leicestershire, and that after his death she married William Hastings.

Sir Ralph Shirley was the brother of Alice (nee Shirley) Brokesby, who was the mother of Alice Saunders and the grandmother of Queen Elizabeth's Chancellor, Sir Christopher Hatton. See Richardson, Douglas, Magna Carta Ancestry, 2nd ed., 2011, Vol. IV, pp. 28-9, and Vol. I, pp. 329-30:

Alice Shirley married Robert Brokesby (or Brooksby), Esq., of Shoby, Leicestershire, son of William Brokesby, Esq., of Shoby, Leicestershire. They had two sons, Anthony, Esq., and Richard, and one daughter, Alice (wife of Laurence Saunders). Robert Brokesby, Esq., died testate 28 March 1531, and was buried in Saxelby, Leicestershire.

In the will below the testator mentions three daughters:

* Alice Saunders (born c.1515), who married William Hatton (d.1546) of Holdenby, and was the mother of Sir Christopher Hatton (c.1540-1591), Lord Chancellor of England and one of Queen Elizabeth's favourites. See the pedigree of Hatton in Metcalfe, supra, p. 27 at:

<https://archive.org/stream/visitationsofnor00harvrich#page/26/mode/2up>.

Sir Christopher Hatton's sister, Dorothy Hatton, married, as her second husband, William Underhill (d.1570) of Idlicote, Warwickshire. In 1567 William Underhill purchased New Place, the second-largest dwelling in Stratford upon Avon. After William Underhill's death in 1570, the wardship of his son, William Underhill (d.1597), was purchased by Sir Christopher Hatton. In Easter term 1597, William Underhill (d.1597) sold New Place to William Shakespeare of Stratford upon Avon. For the will of William Underhill (d.1570), see TNA PROB 11/52/126. For the will of Dorothy (nee Hatton) Newport Underhill, see TNA PROB 11/52/36. The family of the testator's nephew, Robert Saunders (for whose will see TNA PROB 11/43/474), was also connected by marriage to the Underhill family: by her second marriage to Anthony Carlton (d. 18 January 1576), Robert Saunders' widow, Joyce (need Goodwin) Saunders, had a daughter, Bridget Carleton, who married Sir Hercules Underhill (1581-1658), son of William Underhill (d.1597). Sir Hercules Underhill confirmed the sale of New Place to William Shakespeare of Stratford upon Avon in Michaelmas term 1602. See the Wikipedia article on Sir Hercules Underhill edited by the author of this summary.

* Audrey Saunders, who married William Starkey (d.1555), esquire, of Whitley, Warwickshire. For the will of William Starkey (d.1555), see TNA PROB 11/37/321.

* Anne Saunders (c.1512-1565), who married four times, firstly to Bartholomew Tate (d.1528x33) of Laxton and Delapre, Northamptonshire (for his will, see TNA PROB 11/24, f. 185); secondly, to Sir Thomas Longueville (d.1536) of Wolverton, Buckinghamshire (for his burial on 4 October 1536 see Burn, John Southerden, Registrum Ecclesiae Parochialis, The History of Parish Registers in England, (London: Edward Suter, 1829), p. 13); thirdly to Andrew Wadham, a younger son of Sir Nicholas Wadham (b. c.1472, d. 5 March 1542) of Merrifield near Ilton, Somerset; and fourthly (some sources say firstly) to a husband surnamed Befford. See the pedigree in Metcalfe, supra, p. 45, and:

<http://newsgroups.derkeiler.com/Archive/Soc/soc.genealogy.medieval/2006-08/msg01151.html>.

* The testator is also said in the pedigree in Metcalfe, supra, to have had another daughter, Dorothy Saunders, who married George Belgrave, esquire, of Leicestershire. However a daughter named Dorothy is not mentioned in the will below.

See the Saunders and Tate pedigrees in Metcalfe, supra, pp. 45, 198-9; and Richardson, Plantagenet Ancestry, 2nd ed., 2011 Vol. I, p. 402.
