

SUMMARY: The document below is the Prerogative Court of Canterbury copy of the will, dated 6 December 1549 and proved 2 May 1551, of Richard Eden (d.1551?), Archdeacon of Middlesex, uncle of the translator, Richard Eden (c.1516-1576), whose sister-in-law married Oxford's kinsman, Sir Griffith Don (c.1487 - 18 January 1543).

It seems likely that the following bequest in the will below was to the testator's nephew, the translator, Richard Eden (c.1516-1576):

Item, I remit and forgive unto Richard Eden the hundred pounds which he hath already received and had of me.

FAMILY BACKGROUND

The testator states in the will below that he was born in Bury St Edmunds. Nothing is known of his parents apart from pedigrees which state that his father was 'Thomas Eden of the North'. See the Eden pedigree in Sperling, C.F.D., A Short History of the Borough of Sudbury in the County of Suffolk, (Sudbury: B.R. Marten, 1896), p. 208 at:

See also the Eden pedigree in Howard, supra, p. 18 at:

The testator had two siblings:

-Henry Eden (d.518), father of the translator, Richard Eden (c.1516-1576). For his will, dated 28 July 1518 and proved 9 December 1518, see TNA PROB 11/19/176.

Henry Eden married firstly, Mary Olney, by whom he was the father of the testator's executor, Thomas Eden (c.1502-1568), esquire, Clerk of the Star Chamber, for whose will, dated 1 October 1565 and proved 2 December 1568, see TNA PROB 11/50/383.

Henry Eden married secondly a wife named Elizabeth whose surname is unknown by whom he was the father of the translator, Richard Eden (c.1516-1576). After the death of Henry Eden, Elizabeth married Oxford's kinsman, Sir Griffith Don (c.1487 - 18 January 1543). See a Chancery suit, TNA C 1/625/13, brought by Sir Griffith Don against the testator in the period 1529-1532 concerning property which the testator claimed was the inheritance of his nephew, Richard Eden. -Rose Eden (living 1548), who married firstly George Ashby, for whose will, dated 13 March 1515 and proved 18 September 1515, see TNA PROB 11/18/196, and secondly Nicholas Bone (d.1522?). She is mentioned in the testator's will below as 'my sister Bone'. For the monumental brass of Nicholas Bone, see:

Thomas Ashby (d.1559) mentioned in the will below was the eldest son and heir of Rose Eden and George Ashby. He was Clerk of the Spicery to Queen Elizabeth. See 'Ashby of Breakspears' at:

It seems likely that the testator (rather than his nephew, as stated by Badham) was the Richard Eden who was tutor and secretary to Henry VIII (1491-1547). See Badham, Charles, The History and Antiquities of All Saints Church, Sudbury, (London: Hatchard and Son, 1852), p. 45 at:x
