FAMILY BACKGROUND

For the testator's family background, see Barnett, supra, p. 27.

In the will below the testator states that his maternal grandfather was Edmund Brydges, brother of Sir John Brydges:

I will that my body be buried on the right side of the chancel of the parish church of Hitcham, upon the which I will a tomb to be set of grey marble after the pattern of Mr Edmund Bridges, my grandfather, which was palled up in St Lawrence Pountney College in London, the pattern whereof is to be seen by Sir John Brydges' tomb, his brother, in St Nicholas Church in St Nicholas Lane in London, or else after the pattern of Mr Henry Long's which I devised for him, to be all of grey marble with my word under my scutcheon, 'Try, trust, and mistrust not'.

Testator's parents

The testator was the son of Robert Alford (d.1546) and Anne Brydges, daughter of Edmund Brydges of London, draper, and Margaret Hart, daughter of John Hart, Chamberlain of London, and niece of Sir John Brydges (d.1530), Lord Mayor of London in 1521, whose daughter Winifred Brydges (d.1586) was the mother of Thomas Sackville (c.1536-1608), 1st Baron Buckhurst and 1st Earl of Dorset.
